(Acts 2:38) (Romans 10:9)

Once blind, a man stood still and cried
As light broke through the dark inside.
The very first face his eyes could see
Was the one who'd walked beside him faithfully.

And so it is when Christ gives sight,
He turns our darkness into light.
The Savior we ignored for years
Was standing near through all our tears.

If you are lost, don't turn away—
Blind eyes still open here today.
Just call on Christ in humble plea:
“Lord Jesus... open my eyes to see.”
